

GERMAN GOVERNMENT REPORTED OVERTHROWN

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—Travelers from Germany reaching here today brought unconfirmed reports that the German government has been overthrown. It was reported that the Socialists were masters of the situation, and that a general strike had been declared throughout the territory not under allied occupation.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—In connection with the unconfirmed reports from Germany of a German government overthrow, messages from Berlin, by way of Copenhagen, reached this morning. It did not indicate that anything of an extraordinary nature had been foreseen in Germany up to late last evening.

The Brussels report of a German government overthrow are not confirmed from any other source and it may be noted that the dispatches themselves carry their own qualifications, emphasizing the lack of positive information.

If it should prove true that there has been a new uprising in Germany, it would appear to have been deliberately timed to coincide with the date set for putting the treaty of Versailles into effect and creating a state of peace between Germany and the allied powers.

News dispatches from Germany are ordinarily at least 24 hours in reaching this country and the latest messages from Berlin received Friday bore Thursday's date. These messages indicated some uneasiness in labor conditions, particularly in the vicinity of Essen and in the Ruhr industrial basin, but the unrest did not appear to be of unusual significance. The independent Socialists have been the disturbing factor of the government in German internal situation. Since defeat of the Spartacist outbreak last spring, they have been threatening a renewed effort to take control of affairs. The attempts to create trouble in various sections of the country have invariably been put down by the forces of Minister of Defense Noske. Prominent German officials, however, have been quoted as declaring their belief that revolutionary risings might have to be faced during the present winter, but expressing confidence that the government would be able to deal with them. The present German government is a coalition one with strong representation of the majority Socialists, who have been working in harmony with the representatives of the other parties admitted to the ministry. The present premier, Gustav Bauer, is a Socialist, as also is Friedrich Ebert, the president.

Supreme Council Sets Date For The First Meeting Of The League Of Nations

PARIS, Jan. 10.—The putting of the League of Nations into being, which will be one of the immediate consequences of the exchange of ratifications of the treaty of Versailles, will occur in Paris at 10:30 o'clock in the morning of Friday, January 16, the supreme council decided today.

Ambassador Wallace called this decision of the council to President Wilson so that the president might issue the formal notice of the meeting of the council of the league to be held on the date named.

The first meeting of the council will be called to order and presided over by Leon Bourgeois, the representative of France in the council. He will deliver a brief address. Earl Curzon the British foreign secretary, who will represent Great Britain at the meeting, also will speak.

President To Sign Call

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10.—President Wilson is expected to sign the call for the first meeting of the League of Nations council immediately after receiving notice from Ambassador Wallace that the first session has been fixed for next Friday. The United States, however, will not be represented at the meeting as the treaty has not yet been ratified by the senate.

Will Not Affect U. S.

The coming into force of the treaty through exchange of ratification today between Great Britain, France, Italy and Germany, will not affect the United States, officials said. While technically the state of war between this country and Germany still exists, trade between the countries was resumed some months ago and is steadily increasing, particularly the export movement from the United States.

The United States, however, will not be represented on any of the various commissions set up by the treaty for carrying out its terms, nor can this country send consular agents into Germany until the state of war is ended.

CHORUS GIRL NOW STAGE PRODUCER

Miss Bonstelle is just another instance of how women are filling with success positions hitherto regarded as being for men only. Miss Bonstelle is the stage producer of "Little Women," which is now running at the New Theater in London. She started her career as a chorus girl but found producing far more to her liking.

BERGER AGAIN DENIED SEAT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10.—Victor Berger, Socialist representative-elect from Milwaukee, was denied a seat in the house today for the second time.

The vote was 328 to 0 and was on a resolution by Chairman Dillinger, of the elections committee, which was offered immediately after Berger appeared and asked that he be sworn. Berger was denied a personal hearing and there was only brief discussion. Chairman Dillinger speaking for his resolution and Representative Mann, Republican, Illinois, urging that Berger be seated because he had twice been elected by the people of Milwaukee.

Those voting to seat him were: Munu, Harrell, Republican, Oklahoma; Griffin, Democrat, New York; Sherwood, Democrat, Ohio; Sisson, Democrat, Mississippi; and Voligt, Republican, Wisconsin.

Representative S. Bath, Republican Illinois voted present.

Berger declared in a statement after the vote that the house action "was one of the worst attacks on the representative form of government ever witnessed in this country."

Unearth National Syndicate Of Bank Swindlers; Divide Spoils Of Two Millions

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Foucault members of a national syndicate of bank swindlers, who are alleged to have divided more than $2,000,000 with politicians, lawyers, police and some bank officials and employees, were being sought here today.

John Louie, representing a New York indemnity company, conferred with officials of the state's attorney's office, and presented evidence intended to show such a syndicate existed and a number of the ring leaders operated a clearing house here. Thirteen men, alleged members of the gang, are under arrest in New York, Louie said.

FURTHER INCREASES IN PRICE OF MEN'S CLOTHING PREDICTED

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Further increases in the price of men's clothing without much change in style, were predicted today by delegates who attended the tenth annual convention of the National Association of Clothing Designers here.

Labor contributes about 90 per cent to the cost of a suit, it was said. While the supply of woolen cloth was said to be increasing, the designers offered little hope that this would decrease the cost of clothes.

The designers were disinclined to believe reports from London that purple, gold and bright colors would be worn by the men and declared that conservatism, both as to cut and fabric would prevail in the United States and Canada.

Sues "Tipping Trust"

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Miss Hannah Silver, for two years a check girl in restaurants here in a suit filed in the supreme court today, sought to obtain $25,425 from the Chicago Tipping Trust. She alleged she received that amount in tips in two years, and was compelled to give it to the "trust." Three men were named defendants.

"These men have acquired the checking concessions in most hotels and cafes," said Miss Silver. "They pay girls $3 to $15 a week and compel them to drop tips in a small iron box, which is camouflaged with paper."

"I was a checker for two years and turned in more than $25,000 in that time."

TREATY IN EFFECT BETWEEN GERMANS AND 13 NATIONS; UNITED STATES ONLY ONE OF "BIG FIVE" NOT RATIFYING

PARIS, Jan. 10.—The treaty of Versailles, making peace between Germany and the ratifying allied powers, was put into effect at 4:15 o'clock this afternoon by the exchange of ratifications.

The entire ceremony, which took place in the Clock Hall at the French foreign ministry, was completed by 1:16 o'clock.

Previously Baron Kurt Von Lersner, head of the German mission, signed the protocol of November 1, providing for the carrying out of the armistice terms. The signing of this document occurred in the office of the minister of foreign affairs.

Baron Von Lersner and Herr Von Simson, the other German representative, were among the last of those to arrive at the foreign ministry for the day's ceremonies. They passed into the foreign office shortly after Premier Clemenceau, who, as usual, was given an oration as he stepped out of his car.

The delegates assembled in the private office of the minister of foreign affairs, where at a secret session the protocol was signed at 4:05 o'clock.

Led by Premier Clemenceau, the delegates then filed into the famous Clock room, where were held the plenary sessions of the peace conference that fixed the terms of the treaty. Baron Von Lersner and Herr Von Simson were the last to enter the room and the first to sign the minutes recording the exchange of ratifications.

Proceedings Without Ceremony

The proceedings began without any ceremony. Premier Lloyd George, of Great Britain, following the German delegates at the signature table. He was succeeded by Premier Clemenceau, of France who on returning to his seat after signing, stopped in front of Baron Von Lersner and Herr Von Simson. The German representative rose and bowed to M. Clemenceau who said a few words which were inaudible to the spectators. The premier then passed on to his place without shaking hands. This incident was watched with the most intense interest in a dead silence. It was noticed that Baron Von Lersner made a movement as if to put out his hand, but seemed to check himself as he saw that M. Clemenceau kept his gray gloves hands at his side.

Premier Nitti of Italy, Baron Matsui, the Japanese representative, and Paul Hymans, the Belgian foreign minister, followed Premier Clemenceau in the order named.

Then the delegates of the other ratifying nations signed in alphabetical sequence. The entire ceremony was over at 4:10 o'clock when M. Clemenceau rose and said:

"The protocol having been signed, as well as the minutes recording the exchange of ratifications, I have the honor to declare that the treaty of Versailles is in full effect and that its terms will be executed integrally."

United States Not Represented

The ceremony was characterized by formal politeness to the exclusion of all cordiality, excepting between the allied delegates. M. Clemenceau and Mr. Lloyd George sitting at the head of the table, chatted sympathetically with Captain Andre Tardieu, Louis Klotz and Georges Leygues, of the French delegation throughout the proceedings.

Baron Von Lersner was polite and grave and exchanged remarks in a serious tone with Herr Von Simson.

At the end of M. Clemenceau's remarks all the delegates arose and the Germans, after slight hesitation, left the way out without either saluting or exchanging words with any of the other delegates.

The absence of American representatives was particularly remarked. Up to the last hour Hugh C. Wallace, the American ambassador, was in doubt as to whether he would receive instructions to attend the ceremony. Finally hearing nothing from Washington, he returned to the secretary of the peace conference the invitation that had been sent him.

Peaceful relations between Germany and the greater number of the nations engaged in the great war with her are (Continued on Page Six)

Flames From New Volcano In Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 10.—Flames are still being emitted by the new volcano at San Miguel in the western part of the state of Vera Cruz according to advices received here last night. It is stated volcanic dust has drifted as far as Coscomatepec, about 20 miles east of the new crater. Every village in that vicinity has been destroyed while lava and floods of contaminated water from sources opened by the recent earthquakes are flooding the district near the crater.

Refugees from San Miguel confirm earlier reports telling of numerous deaths from falling buildings and poisonous gases. Rebels who had their headquarters in that region have not yet entirely fled from casualties and loss of supplies, it is stated.

Reports from Tecoco by way of Vera Cruz state a panic prevails there from the old volcano near Coatepec. Reports will become active since cracks have appeared on the side of the mountain.

First accurate reports from Coahuila were carried last night in special dispatches from Jalapa quoting Dr. Gonzalez Luna, who had just returned from Coahuila. He stated he had counted 72 dead and 100 injured in that village and evicted the roads between Coahuila and Quinaltlan were completely destroyed.

Jalapa reports that other travelers arriving there say the village of Barranca Alta, near Coahuila, was almost destroyed with numerous victims. In Jalapa itself 95 percent of the buildings were damaged. Water service there is limited to two hours daily. Vera Cruz authorities hope to maintain the present supply for eight days, by which time it is hoped the water of the river Jalapa, which supplies the city, will be fit to drink. Recent volcanic disturbances have rendered it unfit to use.

Relief measures for quake sufferers are progressing rapidly. 200,000 pesos being subscribed by the employees of the National railways and more than 20,000 from the army. Each soldier contributed and the officers subscribed amounts larger than were given by privates.

WILSON'S COAL COMMISSION IN SESSION

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10.—Members of President Wilson's commission appointed to perfect the coal strike settlement went into session today, preparatory to beginning Monday the actual negotiations with the coal operators of the central competitive field. Other coal mining districts in the United States will be taken up after the central field has been considered. Much of the preparatory work has been done for the committee especially in the line of collecting data on mining costs, a large staff having been put to work on it some time ago. Also the commission has before it a number of complaints from locals of the miners union charging that in certain cases and localities the operators have not respected the terms of the government agreement on which the miners were induced to return to work.

The central district coal committee of operators was in session today, discussing the extent to which the operators will participate in the proceedings of the commission.

John L. Lewis, president of the mine workers, and other of that organization's officials and committee members will arrive in Washington tonight and Sunday for the opening of the hearings.

Hughes Condemns Action In Suspending Socialists

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Socialist leaders as the next move in their fight against the action of the state assembly in suspending five members of the party, today were perfecting plans to take their cause directly to the people.

A mass meeting in Madison Square garden will be held, at which not only Socialists, but leaders of other parties and citizens generally will have an opportunity to voice protests.

The committee of eight Socialists organizing the fight to regain the seats of the excluded assemblymen has issued an appeal to all civic organizations and labor unions to send delegates to a non-partisan conference to be held at the Hotel School on Monday evening.

While letters and telegrams from all parts of the country, some appearing and others requesting the action of the assembly, continued to pour upon various party leaders, a letter from Charles E. Hughes, sent last night to Speaker Sweet, of the assembly, attracted the greatest attention today. The former justice condemned the suspension as an act in which "the very principles of the American government are ignored."

61 BARRELS OF WHISKEY STOLEN

LOUISVILLE, KY., Jan. 10.—Following announcement of discovery of a theft of 61 barrels of liquor from a bonded warehouse at Bardonia since Christmas, federal officers and police today began preparations for rounding up "half a dozen or more" persons alleged to have been implicated in the theft.

Dr. Henry C. Harthill, veterinary surgeon here, was arrested last night by detectives charged with knowingly receiving stolen property after 10 barrels of the liquor were said to have been found in the building, where he conducts a livery stable.

MARTENS AND SECRETARY SUBPOENAED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, "Russian soviet ambassador to the United States," and his secretary, Santteri Nuorteva, have been subpoenaed to appear Monday before the senate foreign relations subcommittee investigating Russian subplots in the United States. Both expressed a willingness to appear before the committee.

Martens was served with the subpoena last night at the residence of a friend in the fashionable Dupont Circle section. The department of justice holds a deportation warrant for Martens' arrest, but early today it had not been served.

THOUSANDS ARE FROZEN TO DEATH

REVAL, Jan. 10.—Thousands were frozen to death in a blizzard which swept across Estonia on New Year's day. Reports received here state that 300 bodies of refugees were found in a forest between this city and Narva and American Red Cross workers say many babies were frozen to death at their mother's breasts.

Many fugitives from the collapsed army led by General Yudenich in his recent offensive against Petrograd have perished in the drifting snow.

SEEKS FOOD RELIEF FOR THREE NATIONS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10.—Authority to advance $150,000 for food relief in Austria, Poland and Armenia was asked of congress today by Secretary Glass.

Mr. Glass said the amount would relieve the situation until next fall. Assistance by the United States "is imperatively required," he said, "to alleviate a desperate situation affecting millions of people."

PLOTTED TO OVERTURN U.S. GOVERNMENT, CHARGED

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Evidence pointing to show collusion between Russian Bolsheviks and the communist labor party of Chicago in an attempt to overturn the government of the United States, will be submitted to the special grand jury investigating radical activities here, when it reconvenes Thursday, Henry A. Berger, assistant state's attorney, announced today.

Examination of the archives of the communist labor party, seized at Moscow Bolsheviks and the communist labor party of Chicago in an attempt to overturn the government of the United States, will be submitted to the special grand jury investigating radical activities here, when it reconvenes Thursday, Henry A. Berger, assistant state's attorney, announced today.

FREE COUNTRY FREE MEN

ONE party expresses much elation and another is said to be very deeply depressed because President Wilson urges a submission of the peace treaty to the solemn judgment of the voters, while Bryan urges ratification by the senate on the best terms that can be attained. The common contention being the Democracy will be split in twain by this clash between the official and the private leaders.

Of such things are politics made. Nonsensical, isn't it? President Wilson has his view of the matter, Mr. Bryan has another. Another citizen has a right to hold for against the one or the other. Of course, Mr. Bryan will be charged, in some quarters with the design of being the bull in the china shop. Not being in the situation he would like to be, he is bent on destroying it. Such conclusion necessarily follows, and for our part, we are rather glad it has followed. In this country we are growing too fast into the habit of accepting as disloyal the individual disagreement of individual members with the so called head of the party. The more circumstances that a man has been elected president or governor gives him prestige, that is honored according to the honesty and wisdom of him chosen, but it should not make him the supreme dictator in all things affecting the party. That is pretty much the pass we have come to, however. Partisan representatives in both congress and legislature are expected, in truth, if they value their political hides, compelled to unquestioningly and unhesitatingly obey the mandate uttered by the executive. While Mr. Bryan is himself not a representative, still his difference—not a clash—with the President may lead to the consideration that this condition run into, even though in the particular instance he be wrong as usual, and bring us back to the old principle that in a free country liberty is best maintained by each free citizen thinking honestly for himself and steadfastly standing out for what he thinks.

EUROPE AND AMERICA

EUROPEAN demands for financial assistance from America are growing more numerous and insistent. In fact the loud and unanimous cry from over there is: "America, help us."

Mr. Herbert Hoover, who did more than any other man to save thousands from starvation, is one who does not lend an altogether sympathetic ear to these cries for aid and, perhaps, no other person is so informed as to actual conditions as he. It is his view that the demands are made by a widespread propaganda that has reactions in this country and they are not born of actual necessity or even of a serious menacing condition. Europe needs help, he admits, from America, but only through regular and ordinary business and commercial processes and the relief of the food situation in the large cities, especially of the southeast, where there is dire need of breadstuffs and fats.

While not denying that Europe had suffered dreadfully it is yet quite easy to agree Mr. Hoover is right, because of our own knowledge and near experience. This country, a little more than a half century ago passed through a bitter internal struggle. Our fires fought through it and they loved to tell the tale of ravage and destruction that was wrought. The North was exhausted, the South prostrate, devastated and drained until it seemed there was nothing left, besides having utterly new conditions confronting it. But the government did not ask for financial aid, the North quickly lifted itself and the South, just as soon as it could shake off the horrible incubus of vultures and worse carpetbaggers, that seized the places government, soon revived and in a few years the whole country was abounding in unexampled prosperity. So Europe's rescue is not in American gold, but in the industry, courage and hopefulness of her people.

We don't exactly "get" the financiers and economists when they tell us Germany has the advantage of the other powers in that her mark is at so low estate and in the breath tell us things here are high because our dollar will buy only fifty cents' worth. Looks like what is sauce for the goose ought also to be sauce for the gander.

Will it sound any better for him to say the reason he was out so late was he attended the forum?

If it isn't one kind of weather it is another and the successor more disagreeable than the predecessor.

The Arctic birds have heard so much of "America must feed the world," that even they are winging down from the northland to abide with us a wee.

Mayor Gableman thinks we should get more out of local government than we do. Agreed.

SHE MARRIED AN AVERAGE MAN

Still a little in the dumps about having to hibernate, rusticate and vegetate in Hammond's Corners, and brooding much over Athena's earnest suggestion of "a family," I ran over to see her this afternoon for a tea and talk, especially talk.

"You won't get miffy if I speak plainly?" she asked, pouring a steaming cup dashed with a spoonful of rum, "to make it cozy."

I shook my head firmly, though I knew I was in for a bit of scolding.

"I've never asked why you had no child, Anna," Athena continued briskly, "but I know well enough to guess. You haven't cared for Nature has not abashedly forced one on you and, not being of exceptionally marked maternalness, you've been content to wait till you've even felt a tiny bit superior because of your childlessness. Ain't I right?"

"I suppose you are," I answered, looking into the bottom of my teacup. "Also we couldn't afford it."

"Oh, shucks, now you're making excuses!" cried my friend. "The more excuses you make the further you will postpone the awakening of your own soul. Can't afford it? The world is full of parasite women who sell their own selfishness under the excuse of poverty or physical frailty or something else equally untrue."

"There's my work, Athena," said I eagerly.

"Oh, hiddlesicks! Nobody's asking you to give up your work!"

"People say you can't do two things well. A properly brought up child needs constant care. Every one says it is foolish to try to be a mother and have a career too."

"Nonsense—don't you believe every one! You can't tend an infant and do factory work or teach school or be a stenographer or a ballet dancer, perhaps—though women have done even those things and got away with it—but you can write stories and novels and stuff for the papers with one hand and be a mother with the other!"

"I hardly see how," I murmured.

"By writing each his right proportion. Use a little pumpkin. Divide your time. I did it. When my daughter was born John and I were deeply poor."

"I kept two toddlers, taught music to three lumps of putty, did all the housework and sewed tickles from a hen."

WHO'S WHO In The Days News

ADMIRAL JELICOE

Viscount Jellicoe, one of Great Britain's notable sea commanders, who is now in this country on a brief visit, is making a tour of the world. To speak more accurately he is making a round the world tour of the British dominions, coming to the North American continent via India and Australia.

ADMIRAL JELICOE

Viscount Jellicoe celebrated his sixtieth birthday at sea December 5. Many of his birthdays have been spent at sea, or at least aboard ship. Of other slight bulks, Jellicoe may not look the part of the traditional sea lord, but his face is marked by many years of exposure. According to the records he went to sea first when he was only fourteen years old.

In the tense days of early August, 1914, when Europe was bursting into war, a man of stamina and power was needed to take active command of the British fleet and Jellicoe was chosen. Facing unknown developments in the matter of warfare at sea, Jellicoe kept the helm until several months after the battle of Jutland, when he was succeeded by Sir David Beatty.

After being relieved as commander of the grand fleet, Admiral Jellicoe became the first sea lord of the admiralty and relinquished this post to Vice Admiral Sir Rosslyn Wemyss in December 1917. At this time Jellicoe was made engineer in recognition of his distinguished services.

The Jutland battle was not the first time Jellicoe had been in action. As a sub-lieutenant he was present at the bombardment of Alexandria and afterward took part in the battle of Telenor. He was a member of the naval brigade. He was chief of staff to Admiral Sir Edward Seymour in the Boxer troubles and was badly wounded at Pelt-Sang. He received several decorations following this among them the order of the Red Eagle, second class, with swords from the German emperor.

Admiral Jellicoe was married in 1882 to the daughter of Sir Charles Cayser, wealthy ship owner of Perthshire. Two daughters were born during their early married life, but it was not until after Jellicoe's retirement as first sea lord that the son and heir arrived.

On To His Job

"True."

"Without asking anything about qualifications."

"It's this way. Half the prospective job-hunters never show up, and 90 percent of the other half don't stick."

Matrimonial Alterations

"Agnes married a self-made man, didn't she?"

"Yes, but she has compelled him to make extensive alterations."

An Apology

"And then I came home," he finished.

ANOTHER ROUND-UP OF MAD DOGS—TO MAKE THE COUNTRY SAFE FOR TRUE AMERICANISM

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The midnight joy rides of the Broadway revelers have diminished of late. The stage door Johns used to leave the cafes about one o'clock for a dash to the Westchester road houses and cocktail drinking became a progressive affair—from one to another—until dawn or until the reel stopped by a Twin Ten going over a cliff or climbing a tree.

There was something appealing to the hardened Broadwayites about an auto drive at midnight. It took him out of the atmosphere of tobacco smoke, jazz, wine, perfume and forced hilarity and into an atmosphere picturesque and rural.

The vari-colored dance floor spotlight is gaudy and cheap when compared to the great high and benignly white moon that bathed the ribbon-like roads along the sound. Chorus girls found a time to reflect too as the cars hummed and sang their way past dignified villages and out again into the countryside.

There are flashes, too, of the moon-enlightened water shimmering ghostly like among the weeds and trees and after one has had several cocktails the tremendous dignity of the thing goes to one's head and one is liable to become sentimental and sniffle about home and mother and a false life.

Then one is liable to recline one's head on another's shoulder. Hero stuff? But while the cafes and saloons of Broadway are selling openly the road houses are not taking any chances. They are selling only to those whom they know and promise no one drinking until sun-up is no more.

So it is that the Broadwayite leaves his car in the garage and his apartment becomes a rendezvous for the all-night party. Nearly every man who plays the busy hire of Broadway at night these days has a daque space in

Some Hotel

It was a scrubby little room, in a scrubby little hotel, in a scrubby little part of a scrubby little city's scrubbiness, and the flimsily traveler didn't approve at all.

When he went to wash he found that there was no water for the basin, no soap to wash with, and no towel to dry himself with.

So he rang.

Five minutes' interim—bringing no answer, he rang again, and then again, and again, until his arm ached. At the end of twenty minutes a waiter of forbidding aspect opened the door.

"Did you ring?" he inquired, in a bass, rumbling voice.

"Of course, I did!" snapped the Piccadilly rascal.

"Well," said the waiter, as he withdrew, "don't do it again! You'll wake the maids!"

his apartment. He also has a well-stocked liquor cabinet and the parties go on until sun-up just the same.

Except that they do not get the fresh air and the inspiration for sentimentality that they did in the old jor-riding road-house days that are gone.

The Catherine street market, the picturesque gathering of foreign born Americans, aliens and seller merchants from all over the world, has been closed by the police. Too many carts blocked the street. The market was one of the most interesting places on the lower East Side on Sunday morning—its busiest time. Here came the Hindu sallow from India and his party the coolie from China, sailors from Spain and all over the world. A hardy lot.

They came to buy bargains before daylight. The foreign sailors bargained for only those goods which they could resell at a profit to their fellow countrymen when they returned home. There is one old tradesman who has been coming to the market every four years for the last three decades to make purchases for a shop his wife conducts in Bombay. It takes the old man nearly all of the four years to get home and back to the market by shipping before the mast. He is on his way, now, not knowing the market is closed.

The push carts of Catherine street were marvels of ingenuity. While they were pushed to market on two wheels they resembled a huge box which, when unfolded took up a space about three times the original size of the cart. When unpacked, these department stores in miniature made one wonder if Aladdin had not rubbed his lamp to bring so much out of a small place. On these carts one could buy anything from vegetables to an outfit of clothes.

Leonard Marrick said he never saw a city open its eyes so good humoredly as Paris and one always thinks of Paris as frivolous as its flashing fountains. But Broadway opens its eyes with a groan and it is not until lunch time that sluggish blood begins to circulate. Conductors, waiters, clerks and policemen are surely along Broadway early. Pedestrians, too, will snarl at being jostled but later they will smile. New York seems to hate its maids!

New Health Board Is Confirmed; Dr. Tatje Tipped As Commissioner

City Council in an adjourned session last night confirmed without opposition the appointments of the following five men to the new health board: Mayor William N. Gableman to preside over the board of health; J. C. Orlett, five years; Dr. E. J. McCormick, four years; Dr. J. P. Stewart, three years; Dr. J. P. Jordan, two years; C. W. Blorley, one year.

Mayor Gableman announced that he will call a meeting of the board early next week to effect an organization. Of the five members, Mr. Orlett is the only one with previous experience on a municipal health board, he having been a member of the board which went out of existence January 1. Mr. Orlett, Mr. Stewart and Mr. Blorley are laymen, the medical profession being represented by Dr. McCormick and Dr. Jordan. The political complexion of the new body is three Democrats and two Republicans.

Dr. O. D. Tatje is slated for the appointment as health commissioner and John W. Berndt will likely succeed himself as clerk, he having served in that capacity under similar boards for several years. The reappointment of W. W. Watrous as city planning inspector also is forecast. Estimates of the officials under the new administration are to be fixed by the board at its first meeting.

HEARING CONTINUED IN BOND CASE

After hearing arguments on the motion offered by the defense to dissolve the injunction in the case of Dr. W. W. Watrous, the court continued the hearing to give the attorneys an opportunity to file briefs.

The questions of centralizing the schools and bond issue were raised at a special election held on Feb. 26, and both carried by a small majority. Judge Blair contended that the board had no power to incorporate the two propositions and submit them at the same time and that the provision of $1,000 for motor vehicles to transport the pupils invalidated the entire issue. He further claimed that the board exceeded its authority and that the vote did not reflect the real expression of the electors.

The defense insisted that the board was entirely within its rights in including the $1,000 for motor vehicles, and that the law makes it mandatory on the board to transport the scholars to and from school. Even though the $1,000 is not regular, attorneys for the defense argued, the remainder $39,750 of the bond issue is not void and they declared that the board should be permitted to dispose of the bonds authorized for buying a site and erecting a building.

Attorneys Blair and Blair and Harry Ball for Allard, opposed by Attorneys Kopper, Columbus, Prosecutor Sheppard, E. G. Miller and Harry W. Miller for the school board.

Col. Ralph Cole Warmly Greeted in Ironton

Ironton, O., Jan. 10.—A large number of former soldiers of the revolution and many scenes in France and Belgium were original.

He has visited several countries in the state and addressed many Legions and stated that the state of Ohio is holding her part and doing her share in establishing a permanent American Legion.

Harry Brandel who is critically ill at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. John Brandel of Franklin avenue remains about the same.

THE MOVIES

At The Arcade Today
For today's program Mr. Potts has another of those thrilling Tom Mix western features in two reels. These Mix specials are favorites here and always attract big crowds. "Saved by His Sweetheart" is the title of the Tom Mix special feature showing this afternoon and evening. "Having a Good Time" is a Keystone comedy full of laughs. Don't fail to see it tonight. "Cupid's Day Off" is a one reel Paramount-Mack Bennett comedy plot with funny Ben Turpin, Charley Lyne and Alice Lake dispensing the mirth.

"Fit To Win" at the Lincoln Today
Under the supervision of the U. S. Government the greatest film of its kind made "Fit To Win" will be at the Lincoln afternoon and evening today. Women and young women will be admitted from 2 until 6:30 and men and young men from 7 until 10:30. Admission 20 cents.

This wonderful picture has started the world wherever shown and is without a question the strongest picture ever made concerning the terrible consequences that accompany life in the underworld—pointing out the many pitfalls along the pathway of life, showing the hidden recesses that lurk along the way—the traps set for the unwary—telling how a life can be wrecked or saved—the awfulness of sin and shame. The picture is startling in its truthfulness—nothing is hidden—the horrors of the underworld brought right before your eyes.

3,227,470 in Madagascar.
The population of Madagascar at the close of 1917 was estimated at 3,227,000.

BOY RUN DOWN AND KILLED BY AN AUTO

Scottdale was the scene of one of the most distressing accidents in that vicinity in months about seven o'clock last night when Wells Conklin, eleven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Conklin was run down by a Dodge touring car driven by Clinton "Dink" Daniels, the boy dying of a fractured skull in Dr. J. W. Hutcheson's office about five minutes after the unavoidable accident.

He left home and returned to the theatre where boy friends were waiting for him. About seven o'clock he started for home again presumably to find out if the couple had arrived. Two machines were parked in front of the theatre and the boy dashed between them into the middle of the street. Daniels was driving his machine east on Main street and as he noticed the boy came from between the machines and appear almost in the middle of the street he swerved his car to the left but did not get far enough to the side and struck the lad knocking him to the paved street. Daniels stopped within a few feet of the boy who was picked up by Oney Oiler, son in marriage to Earl Wichebrenner of stable, who lives near the theatre and carried the boy to Dr. Hutcheson's office a short distance away but the lad had not been in the office five minutes when death ended his sufferings. According to Dr. Hutcheson death was caused by a fracture of the skull.

A large crowd quickly gathered at the scene the picture show being emptied in a few minutes. Friends broke the sad news to the parents of the boy and happiness at the home over the wedding was turned into deep sorrow.

Wells Conklin was the eldest son of Earl and Raite Conklin. Besides the parents two brothers Donald aged 4 and Louis aged 3 survive. Mr. Conklin is an employee of the Harrison-Walker Company and is well known in Scottdale.

Daniels is well known in Scottdale and Portsmouth and was once deputy sheriff under Sheriff Pete Smith. He now conducts a garage in Scottdale. Daniels was on his way to Wheeling to take a party to South Webster. He had as a passenger Glenn Jackson, clerk in K. N. Nagel's store who lives in the eastern end of Scottdale.

Classes Are Merged

At a meeting of the members of the Men's and Young Men's Class of the First Evangelical Sunday School last night it was decided to unite the two classes into one big class with Rev. Samuel Lindemeyer as teacher. He has been teacher of the Men's Class. After coming to this decision the new class elected the following officers: President Fred Trichter; Vice President George Schirrmann; Secretary Louis Moritz; Treasurer Arthur Link; Membership, Edward Gims; Entertainment, Hoyt Smith; Referees, William Blankemeyer; Librarian Victor Knost; Gims, Smith and Blankemeyer are chairman of committees they were elected to represent.

Breaks In Water Mains

Ironton, O., Jan. 10.—There have simply not stand it. A number of breaks in the water mains, particularly in the North end, reservoir and it is likely that the old where the mains are old. Engineer system will have to be resorted to. Wintner stated that an eight inch Inquirer Wintner believed yesterday pressure was put on the mains when the advice of Layton was followed. It was inadvisable to use more than six city water lines. Instead of six, fifty five pounds and the old mains, ending in cisterns.

Basham Case Taken Under Advisement

Judge Will P. Stephens yesterday afternoon in the case of James G. Basham, indicted for the murder of William Wintner, stated that he was taking the case under advisement. He is expected to return to court on Monday.

BIGELOW CLASS IS GAINING

A gain of twenty was recorded over the previous week, at last Sunday's session of the Bigelow Men's Bible class, and it was noted by this time showing the total members are determined to keep up their record tomorrow. If a gain can be shown then they feel confident that their goal of 200 "Some Sunday School" will be realized.

"We have gone over our pledges, listed them, and taken a whole lot of speak," said Frank Allen, the president of the class this morning and we can't see how we can fail to have a gain in our number. We want to make a statement and let every member know that we are determined to keep our pledge. We are determined to have 200 members by the end of the year. We are determined to have 200 members by the end of the year. We are determined to have 200 members by the end of the year.

Raise Will Go Into Effect Coming Week

There was general rejoicing yesterday afternoon among the hundreds of workers who have put Portsmouth on the map as one of the shoe centers of the country, when notices were posted at the Selby, Excelsior and Drexel plants that another ten percent bonus would be added to the earnings of all employees. This latest big increase will go into effect next week, and will make the third general increase of ten percent, being paid to the shoe factory workers since the beginning of the war.

This bonus of thirty percent does not in any manner represent the total increase in wages paid shoe factory workers since the war started. There has been a continued adjustment of wages in the many departments, and the general raises of ten percent have always come when it was thought that wages had already been equalized throughout the plants.

This increase, which will add so materially to the individual earnings of the workers, and likewise add a big lump sum to the pay roll of "Industrial Portsmouth," is a voluntary increase. It is a recognition by the owners of the plants of the loyalty and skill of the hundreds of people who have made Portsmouth shoes known in every state of the union, not only as leaders in style and appearance, but for the honesty with which they have been built. The raise is also indicative of the attitude on the part of the manufacturers not only here, but in all places where the new era of progressiveness has taken hold, that the workers shall have an increasing share in the profits of the manufactures. In keeping with this attitude the local shoe manufacturers have also established a free insurance plan for all the workers in the plants, have in addition to the general thirty percent bonus given a service bonus ranging from five to ten percent of earnings, have installed various departments for the better care of the health and comfort of all employed in the plants, and are furnishing ever-increasing means for recreation.

This latest increase of ten percent in earnings will be all the more appreciated as it comes at a time when the cost of living is increasing but little, if any, and the added earnings will not be consumed by "Old High Cost of Living."

Ohio Is Rising Slowly Believe Wharfboat Safe

The Ohio river continued to rise last night and this morning but the rate of rise was decreasing rapidly. At 10 o'clock this morning the gauge showed a stage of 32 feet. The river is rising at about two inches an hour against eight inches yesterday.

The wharfboat which sank in the little lee in the Ohio and if our lines river at the foot of Jefferson street, yesterday is resting on the bed of the river and will be saved according to the owner, Wharfmaster F. B. Winter. We are watching the boat day and night and believe we will prevent it from being swept away. There is very view.

Hundreds of people viewed the boat yesterday and this morning. The same black hole and floating duck without a guide. If necessary, several of the German armies over Belgium and French roads while its occupants were seeking to annihilate the Allies. It can be seen almost any day on Chicago's streets and boulevards.

PLAN TO REGULATE JUNK BUSINESS

Attention of the Council was directed to the matter by Albert Westcott, member from the First Ward who said adjoining property owners were complaining because of the attempt to regulate the junk business in that neighborhood. He said there was considerable opposition also to the location of a junk shop near to the main business section of the city. His motion, to instruct the City Solicitor to prepare the legislation was adopted unanimously.

A former attempt of Mr. Westcott to regulate the junk business in that neighborhood was thwarted by the lack of health upon petition of property owners in that vicinity.

LUDENDORFF'S CAR IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO — General Ludendorff's general headquarters motor car with the same black body and glowing duck wings that carried the military hero of the German armies over Belgium and French roads while its occupants were seeking to annihilate the Allies. It can be seen almost any day on Chicago's streets and boulevards.

Bullet scarred and battered after travelling more than 10,000 miles as the epitome of the German command, the Lincoln has returned to peaceful pursuits and civilian service.

In the summer of 1914, C. L. Willey, a Chicago lumber merchant, with his wife was touring Germany in the automobile. The war flamed up and the automobile was seized by German officials despite its owners protests to the German government. The car was used by the German government for official purposes. Some where in its war activity the automobile was the target of well aimed machine gun fire from the Allied armies and its roof was perforated in many places.

Through an American consul Mr. Willey brought about the return of the automobile. C. L. Willey died in 1910 and the car is now used by his son, C. L. Willey.

BOY RUN DOWN, IS KILLED

Scotville was the scene of one of the most distressing accidents in that vicinity in months about seven o'clock last night when Wells Conklin, eleven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Conklin was run down by a Dodge touring car driven by Clinton "Dick" Daniels, the boy dying of a fractured skull in Dr. J. W. Hutchens' office about five minutes after the unavoidable accident.

The boy darted from between two machines in front of the Scotville picture show, Main street, directly in front of Daniels' machine. Daniels who is almost distracted over the accident turned into the ditch on the north side of the street in his attempt to keep from hitting the boy.

Coroner J. D. Hendrickson went to Scotville this morning to investigate the fatal accident which caused a pall of gloom in the village last night, the boy being well known throughout the town.

Friday afternoon Miss Ada Porter wife of Mrs. Earl Conklin was united in marriage to Earl Winebrenner of near Franklin Furnace. They were to be at the Conklin home last night and it was Wells Conklin's plan to give the couple an old fashioned hollering. He went to the morning picture theatre about two squares away to get a crowd of playmates for the hollering and returned to his home about 6:30 to inquire if the couple had arrived. He left home and returned to the theatre where boy friends were awaiting him. About seven o'clock he started for home again presumably to find out if the couple had arrived. Two machines were parked in front of the theatre and the boy darted between them into the middle of the street. Daniels was driving his machine east on Main street and as he noticed the boy came from between the machines and appear almost in the middle of the street he swerved his car to the left but did not get far enough to the side and struck the boy knocking him to the paved street. Daniels stopped within a few feet of the boy who was picked up by Oney Oiler, constable, who lives near the theatre and was on the sidewalk at the time. He carried the boy to Dr. Hutchens' office a short distance away but the lad had not been in the office five minutes until death ended his sufferings. According to Dr. Hutchens death was caused by a fracture of the skull. A large crowd quickly gathered at the scene the picture show being emptied in a few minutes. Friends broke the sad news to the parents of the boy and his father at the home over the wedding which was turned into deep sorrow. Wells Conklin was the eldest son of Earl and Sadie Conklin. Besides the parents two brothers, Donald aged 7 and Louis aged 6 survive. Mr. Conklin is an employee of the Harrison-Walker Company and is well known in Scotville.

Classes Are Merged
At a meeting of the members of the Men's and Young Men's Cases of the First Evangelical Sunday School last night it was decided to unite the two classes into one big class with Rev. Another continuance of the hearing of Frank Cottle, a young man charged with having sent obscene letters to Miss Zola Newman, of Tenth street, was granted yesterday by Municipal Judge Horace L. Small upon request of City Prosecutor S. Anglen Nelson. The hearing was set for next Thursday at 9 a. m.

Attorneys for the defense offered no objection for a continuance, but they opposed strenuously the motion of the prosecutor to increase the bond from $100 to $500. The court ruled that the original $100 was sufficient, and the defendant was released from custody on the old recognizance, his bonds being represented by Attorney Luther Thompson and Blak & Blair.

Breaks In Water Mains

BRONX, O., Jan. 10.—There have been a number of breaks in the water mains, particularly in the North end, where the mains are old. Engineer Wintner stated that at eight o'clock yesterday water was put on the mains when it was inadvisable to use more than sixty five pounds and the old mains simply would not stand it. The leaks caused a deluge of the reservoir and it is likely that the system will have to be resorted to. Wintner informed yesterday that the notice of laymen was followed by city authorities instead of being sent to engineers.

Basham Case Taken Under Advisement

Judge W. P. Stephenson yesterday heard arguments on a motion for a new trial in the case of James G. Basham, Scotville magistrate, convicted by a jury in Common Pleas court some weeks ago on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, and then took the case under advisement.

The indictment upon which Basham was convicted contained two counts, one charging obtaining money under false pretenses and the other of obtaining a signature under false pretenses. Attorney B. F. Klabbe for the accused, argued that the court erred in refusing his demand, before the trial to require the state to elect on which count of the indictment it relied. The defense claimed that the evidence showed that Basham had authority to collect the money in question by reason of agency from A. W. Hunter owner of the $200 note due from Joseph Woodman. Prosecutor Sheppard appeared for the state.

The Reese Formula R-11 Did It

Such is the way "B. L. Allen, assistant foreman, N. and W. railway who lives at 924 Walnut St., Portsmouth, Ohio, speaks of the benefit the Reese Formula R-11. In his inimitable style Mr. Allen tells of this great remedy in the following letter.

The Reese Formula Co., Huntington, W. Va.

January 4th, 1920

Dear Sir:—

I have been troubled for a long time with nervous indigestion and rheumatism and could not eat or sleep. Lots of nights I never closed my eyes and often eating would leave a burning in my chest almost unbearable. I saw the medicine in the window at Fisher and Strich's Drug Store and I decided to get a bottle and try it as I have always tried everything I saw. I am glad to say after taking two thirds of the bottle I can eat like a horse, sleep like a country boy and feel like I was 16 years old. If you wish to use my name you are at liberty to do so as I will always recommend Formula R-11 to my friends.

Yours Truly,
B. L. Allen, Ass't. Foreman, N. and W. Ry.
924 Walnut Street, Portsmouth, Ohio.

The Reese Formula R-11 will benefit you in the same way as it did Mr. Allen. If you suffer from rheumatism, indigestion, lumberg, sleeplessness, headache, urinary or stomach, liver and kidney trouble, get a bottle today at Fisher and Strich Pharmacy or your own drug store if it fails to give you relief your money will be refunded—adv.

NEW RAILWAY NEARING COMPLETION

EL PASO, Tex.—The new railway from El Paso to Sierra Mojada, State of Coahuila, Mexico is about 70 percent completed, according to a report received here from the National Lines in Mexico, at Juarez. The line will tap what is said to be some of the richest undeveloped mineral land on the continent and American development is expected to follow completion of the road, because of the proximity of the district to the border.

When completed the railway will connect the lines of the old Mexican Central and the Sonora branch of what was formerly known as the Mexican International. It will cross the famous "El Desolado de Madrid" region, heretofore considered an impassable desert, known only to goat herders in the rainy season and to prospectors who ventured to traverse it in search of reported fabulous riches of the Sierra Mojada range.

At present, according to Senator Palmer, 150 kilometers of earthwork of the road are completed and 115 kilometers of track laid. He expects to see the line completed within three or four months.

Nine Reasons Given by Theodore Roosevelt for Going to Church

1. In this actual world, a churchless community, a community where men have abandoned and scoffed at or ignored their religious needs is a community on the rapid down grade.
2. Church work and church attendance means the cultivation of the habit of feeling some responsibility for others.
3. There are enough holidays for most of us. Sundays differ from other holidays in the fact that there are fifty-two of them every year—therefore on Sundays go to church.
4. Yes, I know all the excuses. I know that one can worship the Creator in a grove of trees, or by a running brook, or in a man's own house, just as well as in church. But I also know as a matter of cold fact that the average man does not thus worship.
5. He may not hear a good sermon at church. He will hear a sermon by a good man who, with his good wife, is engaged all the week in making hard lives a little easier.
6. He will listen to and take part in reading some beautiful passages from the Bible. And if he is not familiar with the Bible, he has suffered a loss.
7. He will take part in singing some good hymns.
8. He will meet and nod or speak to good, quiet neighbors. He will come away feeling a little more charitably toward all the world, even toward those excessively foolish young men who regard church-going as a soft performance.
9. I advocate a man's joining in church work for the sake of showing his faith by his works.

The Virginia Bellies have scored a tremendous hit upon every appearance in the three extra programs they have offered in Portsmouth.

"Mutt and Jeff"

You'll remember that our heroes, Mutt and Jeff, succeeded in properly opening the new came at "Pawnee," looked over the "Mexican" situation, attended "College," celebrated their "Wedding," repented their rash act by being "discovered," tried their luck in the "Wolf West" and now to the "Land of Dreams."

"Mutt and Jeff's Dream" is the title of the new vehicle upon which they will ride to another tremendous success this season. Gus Hill has made a far-fetched prediction, even more elaborate than any of his former predictions, that established by the action taken at Paris today. The peace treaty now goes into effect as between Germany and those powers that have finally ratified it—Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Liberia, Luxembourg, Peru, Poland, Spain, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia.

Great Britain was the first of the five great powers represented in the peace conference to announce that it will do a great amount of the burden of the work of the League of Nations, to the execution of the League's special duty being to regulate Germany's payment of indemnities during the next 50 years.

Important also will be the decisions dealing with the German colonies. The British, French, American, Belgian, Dutch, Japanese, Italian, Portuguese, Spanish, and American commissions which are to fix up the new boundaries of Germany with Belgium, the Baltic basin, and Czechoslovakia, are to be completed within 15 days.

A speedy development following the action of today is expected to result in the presentation to Germany of the peace terms. The terms will demand that the war criminals be demanded for trial under the treaty. It has been reported recently that the terms will be considerably cut down from the originally proposed 1,200 to 100. It will still name the former crown prince and Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, however.

It is expected, while the treaty is being signed, that the Kaiser will be released from his imprisonment at Spangenberg. It is also expected that the Kaiser will be released from his imprisonment at Spangenberg.

FREE COUNTRY FREE MEN

ONE party expresses much elation and another is said to be very deeply depressed because President Wilson urges a submission of the peace treaty to the solemn judgment of the voters, while Bryan urges ratification by the senate on the best terms that can be attained. The common contention being the Democracy will be split in twain by this clash between the official and the private leaders.

Of such things are politics made. Nonsensical, isn't it? President Wilson has his view of the matter, Mr. Bryan has another. Another citizen has a right to hold for against the one or the other. Of course, Mr. Bryan will be charged, in some quarters with the design of being the bull in the china shop. Not being in the situation he would like to be he is bent on destroying it. Such conclusion necessarily follows, and for our part, we are rather glad it has followed. In this country we are growing too fast into the habit of accepting as disloyal the individual disagreement of individual members with the so called head of the party. The mere circumstances that a man has been elected president or governor gives him prestige, that is honored according to the honesty and wisdom of him chosen, but it should not make him the supreme dictator in all things affecting the party. That is pretty much the pass we have come to, however. Partisan representatives in both congress and legislature are expected, in truth, if they value their political hides, compelled to unquestioningly and unhesitatingly obey the mandate uttered by the executive. While Mr. Bryan is himself not a representative, still his difference—not a clash—with the President may lead to the consideration that this condition run into, even though in the particular instance he be wrong as usual, and bring us back to the old principle that in a free country liberty is best maintained by each free citizen thinking honestly for himself and steadfastly standing out for what he thinks.

EUROPE AND AMERICA

EUROPEAN demands for financial assistance from America are growing more numerous and insistent. In fact the loud and unanimous cry from over there is: "America, help us lest we perish."

Mr. Herbert Hoover, who did more than any other man to save thousands from starvation, is one who does not lend an altogether sympathetic ear to these cries for aid and, perhaps, no other person is so informed as to actual conditions as he. It is his view that the demands are made by a widespread propaganda that has reactions in this country and they are not born of actual necessity or even of a serious menacing condition. Europe needs help, he admits, from America, but only through regular and ordinary business and commercial processes and the relief of the food situation in the large cities, especially of the southeast, where there is dire need of breadstuffs and fats.

While not denying that Europe had suffered dreadfully it is yet quite easy to agree Mr. Hoover is right, because of our own knowledge and near experience. This country, a little more than a half century ago passed through a bitter internal struggle. Our sides fought through it and they lived to tell the tale of ravage and destruction that was wrought. The North was exhausted, the South prostrate, devastated and drained until it seemed there was nothing left, besides having utterly new conditions confronting it. But the government did not ask for financial aid, the North quickly lifted itself and the South, just as soon as it could shake off the horrible incubus of vultures and worse carpetbaggers, that seized the places government, soon revived and in a few years the whole country was abounding in unexampled prosperity. So Europe's respite is not in American gold, but in the industry, courage and hopefulness of her people.

We don't exactly "get" the financiers and economists when they tell us Germany has the advantage of the other powers in that her mark is at so low estate and in the breath tell us things here are high because our dollar will buy only fifty cents' worth. Looks like what is sauce for the goose ought also to be sauce for the gander.

Will it sound any better for him to say the reason he was out so late was he attended the forum?

If it isn't one kind of weather it is another and the successor more disagreeable than the predecessor.

The Arctic birds have heard so much of "America must feed the world," that even they are winging down from the northland to abide with us a while.

Mayor Gableman thinks we should get more out of local government than we do. Agreed.

"Billy Whiskers," a New Story for the Children

We are pleased to announce that on Monday, January 12, we shall begin the publication of "Billy Whiskers," a serial for the little folks, written by Francis Trepo Montgomerie.

Billy Whiskers is a goat, full of energy and love of adventure, who gets into all sorts of scrapes, and then fights his way out of them.

Every boy has longed to own a goat with a wagon for him to draw. Billy is the kind of goat every boy has thought about. The story is the most life-like tale imaginable, full of action and color and incident. Billy gets into trouble with the police, saves a child's life in a fire, loses a fire company and travels with a horse cart, marries a new little Nanny, and then goes away to join a circus, finding on his return that he is the father of two fine kids. So the story goes, with Billy and Nanny having all sorts of thrilling adventures.

Publication of "Billy Whiskers" will begin Monday, January 12. Be sure to read it to the little folks.

SHE MARRIED AN AVERAGE MAN

Still a little in the dumps about having to hibernate, rusticate and vegetate in Hammond's Corners, and brooding much over Athena's earnest suggestion of "a family," I ran over to her this afternoon for a tea and talk, especially to talk.

"You won't get miffy if I speak plainly? she asked, pouring a steaming cup dashed with a spoonful of rum to make it cozy."

I shook my head firmly, though I knew I was in for a bit of scolding.

"I've never asked why you had no child, Ann? Athena continued briskly. But I know well enough of guess. You haven't cared to. Nature has not absolutely closed eye on you and, not being of exceptionally marked material, you've been content to—well to wait. You've even felt a tiny bit superior because of your childless. Ain't it right?"

"—I suppose you are," I answered, looking into the bottom of my teacup. Also we couldn't afford it."

"Oh, stocks, now you're making excuses," cried my friend. "The more excuses you make the further you will postpone the awakening of your own soul. Can't afford it! The world is full of parasite women who tell their selfishness under the excuse of poverty or physical frailty or something else equally untrue."

"There's my work, Athena," said I, earnestly.

"Oh, foolishness! Now's the asking you to give up your work."

"People say you can't do two things well. A properly brought up child needs constant care. Every one says it is foolish to try to be a mother and have a career too."

"Nonsense—don't you believe 'every one'! You can't tend an infant and do factory work or teach school or be a stenographer or a hotel dancer, perhaps—though women have done even those things and not away with it—but you can write stories and novels and stuff for the papers with one hand and be a mother with the other."

"I hardly see how," I murmured.

"By giving each his right proportion. Take a little example. Didn't your time I did it. When my daughter was born John and I were deeply poor."

"I kept two boys for a while, and then three more, but all the time I wrote and sold stories from a cradle."

Judging By Experience

At the local club the conversation had got on the topic of the English language, its uses and abuses.

"Have you ever noticed," said one man, "how fond people are of using foreign phrases when speaking of women. Her cheeks are always 'roses,' her hands are 'lily-white,' her eyes are 'deeply violet'—"

"You've forgotten one," broke in the man with the sour face, who had listened to the first.

"Which one?"

"Her tongue. It's a scarlet 'rose'—"

WHO'S WHO In The Days News

ADMIRAL JELICOE

Viscount Jellicoe, one of Great Britain's noblest sea commanders, who is now in this country on a brief visit, is making a tour of the world to speak more accurately he is making a round the world tour of the British dominions. Coming to the North American coast via India and Australia he landed at Victoria, B. C., on November 2. The last day of his tour will be his arrival here on the 10th of January.

ADMIRAL JELICOE

Viscount Jellicoe celebrated his sixtieth birthday at sea December 5. Many of his birthdays have been spent at sea, or at least aboard ship. Of his slight build, Jellicoe may not look the part of the traditional sea lord, but his face is tanned by many years of exposure. According to the records he went to sea first when he was only fourteen years old.

In the tense days of early August, 1914, when Europe was bursting into war a man of stamina and power was needed to take active command of the British fleet and Jellicoe was chosen. Facing unknown developments in the matter of warfare at sea, Jellicoe kept the fleet until several months after the battle of Jutland, when he was succeeded by Sir David Beatty.

After being relieved as commander of the grand fleet, Admiral Jellicoe became the first sea lord of the admiralty and relinquished this post to Vice Admiral Sir Rosslyn Wemyss in December 1917. At this time Jellicoe was made engineer in recognition of his distinguished services.

The Jutland battle was not the first time Jellicoe had been in action. As a sub-lieutenant he was present at the bombardment of Alexandria and afterward took part in the battle of Telenor as a member of the naval brigade. He was chief of staff to Admiral Sir Edward Seymour in the Boxer troubles and was badly wounded at Tait-Sang. He received several decorations following this among them, the order of the Red Eagle, second class, with swords from the German emperor.

Admiral Jellicoe was married in 1882 to the daughter of Sir Charles Caxton, wealthy ship owner of Perthshire. Two daughters were born during their early married life, but it was not until after Jellicoe's retirement as first sea lord that the son and heir arrived.

On To His Job

"I notice, when a friend asks you to give somebody a job, you always answer—"

"True."

"Without asking anything about qualifications."

"It's this way. Half the prospective job-hunters never show up, and 20 percent of the other half don't stick."

Matrimonial Alterations

"Agnes married a self-made man, didn't she?"

"Yes, but she has compelled him to make extensive alterations."

An Apology

"Anot—Tommy, I put three pence here this morning and now there's only one. How is that?"

"Tommy—'Please, Ammie. It was so dark that I didn't see that one.'"

But—

Mr. Binks was a commercial traveler, and only came home at long intervals. On one of his returns he was telling his five-year-old son all about his wanderings.

"And then I came home," he finished.

ANOTHER ROUND-UP OF MAD DOGS—TO MAKE THE COUNTRY SAFE FOR TRUE AMERICANISM

New-York - Day - By - Day

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The midday ride of the Broadway revelers have diminished of late. The stage door John used to leave the cafes about one o'clock for a dash to the Westchester road houses and cocktail drinking because a progressive affair—from one to another—until dawn or until the revel stopped by a Twin Ten going over a cliff or climbing a tree.

There was something appealing to the hardened Broadwayites about an auto drive at midnight. It took him out of the atmosphere of tobacco smoke, jazz, wine, perfume and forced hilarity and into an atmosphere picturesque and rural.

The ratiocinated dance floor spotlight is gaudy and cheap when compared to the great high and benignly white moon that bathed the ribbon-like roads along the sound. Chorus girls found a time to reflect too as the cars hummed and sang their way past dignified villages and out again into the countryside.

There are flashes, too, of the moonlight shimmering glowily like among the weeds and trees and after one has had several cocktails the tremendous dignity of the thing goes to one's head and one is liable to become sentimental and sniffe about home and mother and a false life.

Then one is liable to redine one's head on another's shoulder. Hero stuff! But while the cafes and sojourns of Broadway are selling openly the road houses are not taking any chances. They are selling only to those whom they know and promise one drinking until sun-up is no more.

So it is that the Broadwayite leaves his car in the garage and his apartment becomes a rendezvous for the all-night party. Nearly every man who plays the busy life of Broadway at night these days has a dance space in his apartment. He also has a well-stocked liquor cabinet and the parties go on until sun-up just the same.

Except that they do not get the fresh air and the inspiration for sentimentality that they did in the old joy-riding road-house days that are gone.

The Catherine street market, the picturesque gathering of foreign born Americans, aliens and sailor merchants from all over the world, has been closed by the police. Too many cars blocked the street. The market was one of the most interesting places on the lower East Side on Sunday morning—its lastest time. Here came the Hindis sailor from India and his party the coolies from China; sailors from Spain and all over the world. A bawdy lot.

They came to buy bargains before daylight. The foreign sailors bargained for only those goods which they could resell at a profit to their fellow countrymen when they returned home. There is one old tradesman who has been coming to the market every four years for the last three decades to make purchases for a shop his wife conducts in Bombay. It takes the old man nearly all of the four years to get home and back to the market by shipping before the mast. He is on his way now, not knowing the market is closed.

The push carts of Catherine street were marvels of ingenuity. While they were pushed to market on two wheels when unloaded a huge box which when refilled took up a space about three times the original size of the cart. When unpacked, these department stores in miniature made one wonder if Aladdin had not rubbed his lamp to bring so much out of a small place. On these carts one could buy anything from vegetables to an outfit of clothes.

Leonard Marwick said he never saw a city open its eyes so good humoredly as Paris and one always thinks of Paris as frivolous as its flashing fortresses. But Broadway opens its eyes with a groan and it is not until lunch time that sluggish blood begins to circulate. Conductors, waiters, clerks and policemen are early along Broadway early. Pedestrians, too, will be about at lunch time but later they don't do it again! You'll wake up this morning.

So he rang.

Five minutes' interim listening to answer, he rang again, and then again and again, until his arm ached. At the end of twenty minutes a waiter of formidable aspect opened the door.

"Did you ring?" he inquired, in a bass, rumbling voice.

"Of course, I did!" snapped the Piccadilly visitor.

"Well," said the waiter, as he withdrew, "don't do it again! You'll wake the maids!"

Some Hotel

It was a scrubby little room, in a scrubby little hotel, in a scrubby little part of a scrubby little city's scrubby-lands, and the Piccadilly traveler didn't approve at all.

When he went to wash he found that there was no water for the basin, no soap to wash with, and no towel to dry himself with.

So he rang.

Five minutes' interim listening to answer, he rang again, and then again and again, until his arm ached. At the end of twenty minutes a waiter of formidable aspect opened the door.

"Did you ring?" he inquired, in a bass, rumbling voice.

"Of course, I did!" snapped the Piccadilly visitor.

SOCIALISTS REPORTED TO HAVE UNSEATED BERLIN GOVERNMENT

BRUSSELS, Jan. 10—Travelers from Germany reaching here today brought unconfirmed reports that the German Government has been overthrown. It was reported that the Socialists were masters of the situation and that a general strike had been declared thruout the territory not under allied occupation.

The Brussels report of a German government overthrow are not confirmed from any other source and it may be noted that the dispatches themselves carry their own qualifications, emphasizing the lack of positive information.

If it should prove true that there has been a new uprising in Germany, it would appear to have been deliberately timed to coincide with the date set for putting the treaty of Versailles into effect and creating a state of peace between Germany and the allied powers.

Flames From New Volcano In Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 10—Flames are still being emitted by the new volcano at San Miguel in the western part of the state of Vera Cruz, according to advices received here last night. It is stated volcanic dust has floated as far as Coscomatepec, about 20 miles east of the new crater. Every village in that vicinity has been destroyed while lava and floods of contaminated water from sources opened by the recent earthquakes are flooding the district near the crater.

Refugees from San Miguel confirm earlier reports telling of numerous deaths from falling buildings and poisonous gases. Rebels who had their headquarters in that region have suffered severely both from casualties and from loss of supplies, it is stated.

Reports from Teocotepec say of Vera Cruz, state a panic prevails there from the old volcano near Cuernavaca. Reports will become active since cracks have appeared on the side of the mountain.

First accurate reports from Cuernavaca were carried last night in special dispatches from Jalapa, quoting Dr. Garcia Luna, who had just returned from Cuernavaca. He stated he had counted 72 dead and 100 injured in that village and asserted the roads between Cuernavaca and Quimixtlan were completely destroyed.

Jalapa reports that other travelers arriving there say the village of Barajana Alta, near Cuernavaca, was almost destroyed with numerous victims. In Jalapa itself, 15 percent of the buildings were damaged. Water service there is limited to two hours daily.

Vera Cruz authorities hope to maintain the present supply for eight days, by which time it is hoped the water of the river Jucapa, which supplies the city, will be fit to drink. Recent volcanic disturbances have rendered it unfit to use.

Relief measures for quake sufferers are progressing rapidly. 200,000 pesos being subscribed by the employees of the National Railways and more than 500,000 from the army. Each soldier contributed and the officers subscribed amounts larger than were given by private.

Thousands Are Frozen To Death

REVAL, Jan. 10—Thousands were frozen to death in a blizzard which swept across Estonia on New Year's Day. Reports received here state that 300 bodies of refugees were found in a forest between this city and Narva and American Red Cross workers say many babies were frozen to death at their mother's breasts.

Many fugitives from the collapsed army led by General Yudenich in his recent offensive against Petrograd have perished in the driving snow.

OPERATORS IN CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10—In an effort to agree on the stand they will take in the negotiations between President Wilson's coal commission and the operators and miners here, Monday, numerous coal operators were continuing today discussion of the strike issues.

Operators outside of the central competitive fields were expected to complete their arguments today. The operators of the central fields held a conference yesterday, but it was understood they did not agree on a policy.

Whether or not the operators will refuse to enter negotiations with the commission, still was undecided early today and some opposition was known to exist among the operators to the personnel of the commission appointed by President Wilson to adjust the coal controversy.

Some of the operators contended that the members of the commission had already committed themselves on the principal issues.

OPENING STOCKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 10—Popular shares were substantially higher at the opening of today's stock market, especially the several speculative groups, in which the usual week-end covering of contracts was observed.

Baldwin Locomotive, Crucible Steel and American Woolen featured the rise with other prominent stocks, equipments, metals and oils. There was a moderate demand for such utilities as Philadelphia company and Peoples Gas. Specialties and miscellaneous shares were represented by Industrial Alcohol and United States Realty.

WOMEN IN FIGHT ON HIGH COST

CHICAGO, Jan. 10—Ten thousand Chicago housewives will hold mass meetings in public schools January 21 in a campaign against high prices, the women's fair price organization announced today. Housewives will be told how and where to buy economically and complaints will be heard against alleged profiteers. Prominent economists will be selected as instructors.

ALLIED DIPLOMATS FORCED TO MOVE

HONOLULU, Jan. 10—The Nippo Jiji, a Japanese language newspaper here, published a Tokyo cable today reporting that the Bolsheviks had captured Irkutsk and that the allied diplomats had gone to China.

London advices yesterday reported that 1000 anti-Bolshevik insurgents in control of Irkutsk and General Semenov, the Cossack leader, are slightly east of China.

Drugs Used While Shoveling Snow
Tiffin—William Kirschner, 73, dropped dead from heart disease while shoveling snow Friday.

EXCHANGE RATIFICATION TODAY

Hughes Condemns Action In Suspending Socialists

NEW YORK, Jan. 10—Socialist leaders, as the next move in their fight against the action of the state assembly in suspending five members of their party, today were perfecting plans, to take their cause directly to the people.

A mass meeting in Madison Square Garden will be held, at which not only Socialists, but leaders of other parties and citizens generally will have an opportunity to voice protests.

The committee of eight Socialists organizing the fight to regain the seats of the expelled assemblymen, has issued an appeal to all civic organizations and labor unions to send delegates to a non-partisan conference, to be held at the Grand Central Hotel on Monday evening.

While letters and telegrams from all parts of the country, some approving and others condemning the action of the assembly, continued to pour upon various party leaders, a letter from Charles L. Hughes, sent last night to Speaker Sweet, of the assembly, attracted the greatest attention today.

The former Justice condemned the suspension as an act in which "the very principles" of the American government are ignored.

61 BARRELS OF WHISKEY STOLEN

LOUISVILLE, KY., Jan. 10—Following announcement of discovery of a theft of 61 barrels of liquor from a bonded warehouse at Bardonia since Christmas, federal officers and police today began preparations for rounding up "half a dozen or more" persons alleged to have been implicated in the theft.

Dr. Henry C. Harbottle, veterinary surgeon here, was arrested last night by detectives charged with knowingly receiving stolen property after 10 barrels of the liquor were said to have been found in the building, where he conducts a livery stable.

WILL ESTABLISH PEACEFUL RELATIONS BETWEEN GERMANY AND FOURTEEN NATIONS

PARIS, Jan. 10—The putting of the League of Nations into being, which will be one of the immediate consequences of the exchange of ratifications of the treaty of Versailles, will occur in Paris at 10:30 o'clock in the morning of Friday, January 16, the supreme council decided today.

PARIS, Jan. 10—Although the exchange of ratifications of the Versailles treaty this afternoon is the final act that restores before the war relations between Germany and France, no arrangements have been made by Germany so far as can be ascertained here to resume peace relations with this country.

Reports having been circulated and challenged for some time to the effect that Kurt Von Lersner, head of the German delegation, would be designated as first German chargé d'affaires, it had become accepted as a fact. He told the Associated Press today he had not been named for the post and was in utter ignorance of the intention of his government. He denied reports that as head of the peace delegation, he would leave his quarters at Arcene Boulevard for the old embassy after the signature of the protocol.

UNEARTH NATIONAL SYNDICATE OF BANK SWINDLERS, DIVIDE SPOILS OF TWO MILLIONS

CHICAGO, Jan. 10—Fourteen members of a national syndicate of bank swindlers, who are alleged by police to have divided more than $2,000,000 with politicians, lawyers, police and some bank officials and employees, were being sought here today.

John Louist, representing a New York indemnity company, conferred with officials of the state attorney's office, and presented evidence intended to show such a syndicate existed and a number of the ring leaders operated a clearing house here. Thirteen men, alleged members of the gang, are under arrest in New York, Louist said.

MARTENS AND SECRETARY SUBPOENAED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10—Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, "Russian soviet ambassador to the United States," and his secretary, Santeri Nopola, have been subpoenaed to appear Monday before the senate foreign relations subcommittee investigating Russian propaganda in the United States. Both expressed a willingness to appear before the committee.

Martens was served with the subpoena last night at the residence of a friend in the fashionable Dupont Circle section. The department of justice holds a deportation warrant for Martens' arrest, but early today it had not been served.

Party Of 100 Men Attacks Barracks

DUBLIN, Jan. 10—Police barracks six miles from the village of Tuam, Galway county, were attacked Thursday evening by a large party of men, according to reports reaching this city. The attacking party, said to number about 100 men, besieged the barracks, firing repeated volleys which rattled the doors and smashed all the windows. During the fight two or three bombs were thrown, one wall being demolished and one police sergeant being slightly wounded. The occupants of the barracks returned the fire of the assailants.

Four constables who were patrolling the neighborhood heard the explosion of the bombs, and hastened to the scene. When they arrived they attacked the besiegers so vigorously that they abandoned the field.

Two hold mail robberies, one near Limerick and the other near Mullingar, were reported Friday. About 50 pounds sterling in transit to recipients of old-age pensions was taken.

WEATHER

OHIO—Partly cloudy tonight. Snow flurries near Lake Erie. Sunday fair. Little change in temperature.

NEW AIRPLANE SERVICE

BROWNSVILLE, Tex.—Vast treasures of silver and gold, stolen by bandits over a period of many years, are expected in the mountains of Chihuahua, Mexico, and in the remote and wild sections of the Mexican states of Durango, San Luis Potosi and Zacatecas, according to American mining men who have been investigating operation of foreign-owned mines in hostile sections of the southern republic.

Among the poor miners run of buried treasure, silver in Chihuahua and Durango mountains by the family Francisco Villa, rivaling the riches of Cortez found among the people when the Spaniards conquered Mexico.

TWO MINERS BURNED

SCRANTON—Two miners burned, one perhaps fatally, in explosion at Belleville colliery Friday.
